

Maths and symmetry

Overview

Mathematics is found in everyday life. A shape or object is symmetrical when one half is the mirror image of the other half. The line of symmetry is the central dividing line between the two halves.

Look around your home to find objects and shapes that are symmetrical.

Instructions - Draw the other half of the snowflake using the graph for reference. Check by folding the image onto itself

