Thank you very much to my English teacher

After careful consideration, I am very grateful to my English teacher.

That's because she taught me English, without her, it would be difficult for me to survive in Australia. For example, I wouldn't be able to understand what my teachers and classmates say. I wouldn't be able to read every book, and I wouldn't be able to communicate with my classmates. Maybe I don't know anything about selling things - but she taught me that allowed it wasn't very good, at least it allowed me to understand some of what teachers and classmates said, read some books, and communicate with classmates. So I am very grateful to my teacher.
