There are many inspirational people around the world but one that inspires me is an Australian man named Fred Hollows. Fred Hollows was an ophthalmologist who fixed eyesight for people who are in need. He has his own company called The Fred Hollows Foundation. He was born on the 17th of April 1929 and died 10th of February 1993. Fred started by helping his father. His father was going blind, so Fred worked in his father's pharmacy to find a way to save his father's eyesight. A few years later he was going to other countries helping a bunch of people with their eyesight for free, and that is how he is my most inspiring scientist.
